Brand Voice Guide — GreenTrail

Purpose: Fictional training reference for the Social Media Strategist Gem.

1. Brand Overview

- Brand name: GreenTrail
- Product: TrailSip Insulated Bottle
- Product category: Reusable drink bottle
- Campaign: New product launch

2. Target Audience

People who commute, study, work, travel locally, and enjoy outdoor activities.

3. Brand Tone

- Friendly and encouraging.
- Clear, practical, and upbeat.
- Natural and conversational.
- Confident but never pushy.
- Sustainability-minded without making unsupported claims.

4. Content Pillars

1. Product announcements and launches.
2. Everyday hydration routines.
3. Lifestyle inspiration.
4. Community engagement and questions.
5. Brand values supported by verified information.

5. Caption Style

- Use short, easy-to-read sentences.
- Start with an engaging opening.
- Focus on one main idea per post.
- Include a clear call to action.
- Keep captions relevant to the audience.

6. Hashtag Rules

- Put hashtags at the end of the caption or under a separate Hashtags heading.
- Use relevant hashtags only.
- Avoid misleading or unrelated hashtags.
- Example hashtags: #GreenTrail #TrailSip #ReusableBottle #EverydayHydration

7. Emoji Rules

- Use no more than 2 emojis per caption.
- Use emojis only when they fit the message.
- Avoid excessive, repetitive, offensive, or confusing emojis.

8. Approved Product Information

- Product name: TrailSip Insulated Bottle.
- Product category: Reusable drink bottle.
- The product is being introduced through a launch campaign.

Do not invent its price, capacity, colors, materials, insulation duration, warranty, availability, discounts, or shipping details.

9. Accuracy Requirements

- Never invent product specifications or customer reviews.
- Do not make unsupported environmental or performance claims.
- Ask for confirmation if essential information is missing.
- Recommend human review before publication.

Note: GreenTrail and TrailSip are fictional examples created for training purposes.